A Curious Contest between the Examiner and Elevator.

[From the Virginia (Nev.) Enterprise.]

The San Francisco Examiner habitually reproduces, with characteristic comment, all incidents coming within its observation relating to the ignorance of the Southern blacks. Registration and the reconstruction laws has furnished and taken into print hundreds of such incidents, and the Examiner seizes upon and dishes them up with great relish whenever discovered. Should a colored man, born and reared in slavery, warned through a whole life by the lash and law against the enormity of learning to read and write, and thrown nameless upon the world by the immorality of his master—should such a man present himself for registration, and reply irregularly to a few of the questions required by the law to be propounded, some trifling correspondent forthwith reports the conversation between the applicant and registering officer, making it as ridiculous as possible, and Democratic journals pass it round among their readers, as additional evidence that the negro is an animal and "has no rights which the white man is bound to respect." These circumstances—in most instances doubtless in part if not altogether imaginary—are seldom overlooked by the Examiner. Says that journal: "We present the following example of an intelligent 'man and brother' exercising the right of 'manhood suffrage' in New Orleans;" and then follows an account of the application of some black man for registration. He does not know that he has any other name than that of "Sam"—probably has no other, having been born in slavery—and cannot tell exactly how long he has lived in the city. This is the staple of the most of these incidents. Southern men should blush to have them related, for upon the people of the South rests the responsibility of the negro's ignorance; yet they are told with profound satisfaction by the opponents of impartial suffrage. But our purpose is not to refer especially to these stories of "negro inferiority" in the South. It is natural that they should be told—natural that there should be a foundation for them—and the Democratic press neglects its duty which fails to make the most out of them. But is all the ignorance in the Southern States confined to the negro? Are there not classes of whites in the South who are not a step in advance of the blacks, morally or intellectually? The census returns exhibit a vast number of uneducated whites in the rebel States. Of adult whites who were unable to read or write, in 1860, there were 74,055 in Virginia, 68,128 in North Carolina, 67,577 in Kentucky, 37,605 in Alabama, 23,642 in Arkansas, and so on all through the Southern States. It is thought by many that these figures should be doubled, as the returns were compiled by Southern men, who were anxious to make as creditable a showing as possible for their section; but they need not be changed a single unit to show that the ignorance and intellectual depravity of the South are not monopolized by the blacks. If the statements of correspondents may be relied upon, there are classes in Arkansas, North Carolina, Mississippi and most of the Gulf States, so low in the scale of humanity that the blacks suffer nothing in comparison with them. These men are voters. We do not object to it, for they are American citizens, and therefore entitled to ballot; but if any class is to be proscribed on the score of ignorance, let them not be overlooked. And this brings us to the mention of a very entertaining contest now in progress between the Examiner and Elevator—the latter being an organ of the colored people of California and edited by colored men. The Examiner, as already stated, seems to be continually in search of incidents reflecting upon the intellectual capacity of the freedmen, and the Elevator, in return, is very quietly reproducing all the paragraphs afloat bearing upon the ignorance of the lower classes of the Southern whites. Says the Elevator: "As an offset to the story of the ignorant colored voter, who did not know his age or comprehend an oath, the Griffith (Georgia) Union tells how one of the poor whites passed his examination by the registering board;" and then a story is told of a white man who came in from the country and applied for registration. He did not know his name or age, but believed he was old enough to vote, as he had exercised the privilege in favor of Jeff. Davis some years before. He did not know where he lived, and after taking the usual oath, with the assistance of a friend, inquired "what it was all about." This is a sample of the Elevator's stories. They are very similar to those of the Examiner, and probably quite as truthful. The Elevator, thus far, has the best of it.

A BRILLIANT PICTURE.—Horace G. Day, in the course of his remarks on increasing the steam freight railway system in the United States, said:

No man begins to realize yet what enormous wealth lies buried in the mountains and plains that intervene between this and the Pacific—waste for a large part of the year—but teeming with mineral wealth, and now absolutely useless, because they will not reward transportation by the slow wagon trains across these prairies. The abundant minerals that lie buried there are now useless and will be until cheap transportation reaches them. When that is accomplished thousands of men will be engaged in digging from the sides of the Rocky Mountains iron, and copper, and zinc and other minerals, and the Sierra Nevada, and the short chains that everywhere intersect the great valley that lies between those chains. We are just at the beginning of improvement on this continent. I presume, with three great railroads across the continent that five millions of men might be profitably employed in digging minerals in regions now absolute deserts. This great city should be the center. Here is the Union Pacific road, no longer trying to reach the upper road by the Platte valley, but to start off in a southwesterly direction, so as to get to New Mexico and Arizona and reach the Gulf of California. If we can make one railroad from the Missouri we shall largely save on the cost of food here and the cost of goods in the West, and thus encourage emigration westward. I have never seen any corn burned for fuel, but I have seen farmers in the markets of the West standing about in a hard Winter's day begging that somebody would buy their corn at fifteen cents a bushel, and often going home with their load because nobody would buy it; but I trust the day is not far distant when every useful product of human industry will meet a fair and remunerative price in every part of the country. I trust to see the building up of that great mineral district of the West, so that it will have double markets, and that those great and rich plains and prairies extending from the buffalo region in West Kansas to Indiana river shall find not only constant but remunerative markets and double its population year by year.

THE CONVENTION SYSTEM.—The Republicans of Philadelphia are discussing the question of changing the manner of making nominations. The present mode, they all admit, is worse than bad, and the substitute that appears to receive the greatest amount of favor is what is termed the "Crawford County System," having its origin in Crawford county, in that State, which is to take a direct vote of the party upon every nomination. The Press remarks that "the late elections have confirmed the wisdom of their precautionary steps, and it is deeply to be regretted that our late conventions were not guided more in the spirit that prompted the action of the league. The Republican masses are evidently resolved upon some thorough change, and we hope none of our politicians will any longer resist this too manifest determination."

They have queer ideas of hospitality up in Lafayette, Indiana. The Journal of that city gives the following account of a "friendly mill" which occurred there a few days ago: "An ex-editor of this city, and country editor in town seeing the elephant, took it into their heads to drink another well known citizen drunk. On the twenty-fifth round, country editor went to grass, and was carried off on a shutter. On the thirtieth, the ex-editor went under leaving the citizen master of the field, straight as a shingle. Lafayette whisky is death on weak-kneed suckers."

A little girl, six years old, fell into a well at Washington, Iowa, fifty feet deep, and was taken out somewhat bruised. The water was two and a half feet deep—not deep enough to drown her, but sufficient to prevent her from being dashed to pieces.

A negro jig dancer, propelled by steam, is the latest Yankee notion. A kerosene lamp heats a small brass vessel full of water and shaped like a top. It revolves in the socket, and moves a wire which communicates with the figure.

The principal manufacturing companies of Manchester, New Hampshire, held their annual meeting on the 16th of October. The Amoskeag Company made $600,000 last year, and the Langdon Mills $96,000, but the Stark Mills have their balance on the wrong side of the ledger to the extent of $120,000, though the company has a surplus on hand sufficient to pay three five per cent. dividends, irrespective of the future. Last year's production of the mills was as follows: Manchester Print Works, 20,000,000 yards of delaines and ; Amoskeag, 18,000,000 yards; Langdon, 2,100,000, and the Stark, 5,000,000 pounds of heavy cottons.

A drug clerk in Brooklyn, of a very "affable" disposition talked so busily while putting up some morphine, that he inadvertently put two doses in one powder, and thereby caused the death of a lady. He is now in jail, with no one to talk to.

The Daily Oregonian.

SATURDAY MORNING, NOV. 30, 1867.

A Sop to Cerberus.

A few days ago the following appeared in the telegraphic dispatches:

> A Tribune special says that Senator Sherman intends to introduce a bill converting the maturing debt into a long consolidated loan of not less than thirty years, of six per cent, with one per cent tax, making it equivalent to a five per cent loan.

This announcement is a source of exceeding great joy to the Herald. That paper is positively delighted with it. The following is a portion of its comments:

> John Sherman is regarded by his party as one of the best constitutional lawyers in the country; but it is evident that he is not a reader of the OREGONIAN, for if he had been, he would have learned that none but an ignoramus would admit the constitutional right of taxing Government securities, the clause in the act creating the securities exempting the same from State tax to the contrary notwithstanding. If Congress should pass Sherman's bill for making untaxable with taxable bonds, all the OREGONIAN's legal citations and editorial platitudes on the subject, would go for nothing, [illegible] it is bound to [illegible] the policy of Congress, whatever that may be.

Some people have a remarkable aptitude for making themselves ridiculous, and in this quality the Herald editor may justly claim a pre-eminence. In the first place it is by no means certain that Senator Sherman intends to introduce such a bill as is described above, since the announcement rests on no better authority than that of a newspaper reporter at Washington; and in the second place, such a proposition will, if made, be quite a different thing from the policy which the Democrats have insisted on, viz: That Government [illegible] shall be subjected to State taxation. The [illegible] by the OREGONIAN were [illegible] to the latter point. Our object was to show that States could not tax the [illegible], and this doctrine we established beyond the power of any one to refute it. The proposition embodied in the telegram published above, is, that as the debt matures, it shall be converted into a loan at six per cent interest, subject to a tax of one per cent per annum. That is, Congress is to authorize the levy of a one per cent. tax on the proposed new loan. The astute Herald confounds this with the proposition to [illegible] to State taxation. It can see no [illegible] the proposition that the [illegible] shall [illegible] a tax of one per cent on its bonds, and the [illegible] that the States [illegible] to tax [illegible] any [illegible]. What we said [illegible], that nobody [illegible] would [illegible] on the constitu[illegible] right of the States to tax the [illegible] of the [illegible] Government. And none but an ignoramus would confound the two propositions regarding National and State taxation with each other.

Of [illegible] it can tax the bonds now [illegible]. It can only tax those which may be [illegible] notwithstanding that they are to be [illegible]. This would necessitate the payment by the Government of a higher rate of [illegible], so that not a farthing would be [illegible] or saved by the transaction. The telegram says [illegible] six per cent. loan with a one per cent. tax, making it [illegible] to a five per cent. loan." It is not at all [illegible] that a man of John Sherman's ability, [illegible] anything of the [illegible] does the Herald suppose the Government [illegible] would make by paying six per cent. [illegible] can be had at six per cent., subject to a one per cent. tax, [illegible] at five per cent.? But it is proposed that the Government [illegible] pay the additional one per cent. and [illegible] back this [illegible] through the instrumentality of the one per cent tax. [illegible] one per cent. is to be [illegible] out of one pocket and put into another, [illegible] the cost of the transaction. This, in Democratic estimation, is [illegible] the Herald's judgment [illegible] which will materially lighten the [illegible] of the [illegible] very distressing [illegible] that the people shall be taxed to [illegible] on the [illegible] this one per cent. is mainly [illegible] in the way of taxing the bonds! It [illegible] that a man may grow rich [illegible] changing his [illegible].

[illegible] a bill [illegible] whose shallow [illegible] would both [illegible]. It is only a tub to the [illegible] correct [illegible] to say that it is a sop to Cerberus [illegible] had to be re[illegible], that they might pass by this monster, [illegible]. The following is [illegible] of the story:

> [illegible]
> He [illegible] jaws, just op'd to roar,
> [illegible] and straight
> [illegible]
> [illegible]
> His teeth, and [illegible] the [illegible] cave.

Just so [illegible] the hope of a one per cent. tax [illegible] stop the [illegible] howling of the [illegible]. The Herald has already [illegible] the [illegible] bait and [illegible] to be [illegible] with it. The Democratic party is determined to be gulled, and [illegible] itself, [illegible] with [illegible] proposition that the Government shall pay an additional one per cent. [illegible] on its [illegible] for the sake of collecting a one per cent. tax [illegible]. It would [illegible] a party which is so exceedingly anxious to be humbugged, ought to be gratified in [illegible] to gratifying it in this way [illegible] such a [illegible] is really too [illegible] and [illegible], and also because we do not wish to see the one per cent interest which it is proposed to pay out in order that the one per cent. tax may be collected in, squandered or [illegible] in [illegible] operations,—a result which would be sure to occur if such a [illegible] were [illegible].

STATE [illegible].

The [illegible] says Mr. A. S. [illegible], of Eug[illegible], was [illegible] on the 18th, by [illegible] off a saw log and [illegible].

The [illegible] says [illegible], the man who died [illegible] up at San [illegible] of about [illegible] with other [illegible] to them [illegible] there will [illegible] leave.

The Union men of [illegible] have [illegible] the following [illegible]: For Mayor, John C[illegible]; [illegible] R. F. W[illegible]; J. D. F[illegible]; Jno. [illegible]; O. [illegible]; R. F[illegible]; J. F. [illegible].

The [illegible] says Pr[illegible] Myers, of the Oregon Iron Works, [illegible] from Albany last [illegible], where he has been putting two large turbine water wheels into [illegible] Roaring mill. He [illegible] that there is much [illegible] left in Linn [illegible] in the [illegible].

Dr. [illegible] of Jacksonville, says the [illegible], has in his [illegible] a Latin Bible, printed at Venice in 1481. This book is [illegible] the first printed in America. The [illegible] work is well [illegible] fact, much [illegible] than one would [illegible] possible at that early period, when the art of printing had been known only a few years. The [illegible] letters are printed in colors and have some [illegible] of having been executed with a [illegible].

The [illegible] says that an unusual quantity of flour is [illegible] from Rogue River Valley to Yreka this fall. The [illegible] of the large mill at [illegible] some time since, has [illegible] an outlet for Scott Valley flour in that direction, and, consequently a [illegible] for ours at Yreka. Several [illegible] hauled about fourteen [illegible] from Foudry's mill to Yreka last week, and are again on the road with a prospect of [illegible] until [illegible].

A correspondent writes us from Salem, Nov. 26th: During a visit to the Waldo Hills a few days ago, I had the pleasure of attending a meeting of the Union voters of that place, held at Liberty school house, on the evening of the 23d inst., for the purpose of [illegible] a Union Club. E. C. Geer was chosen [illegible], and S. R. Hibbard Secretary. T. W. Davenport, W. Scriber, K. L. Hibbard, W. Grant and L. B. Geer, were appointed a committee on [illegible] organization. Speeches were [illegible] much [illegible]. The meeting adjourned to meet on the 6th of next month. "Old Marion" is wide awake, and will give a good account of [illegible].

[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

DATES TO NOVEMBER 28.

Congressional.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—In the House the Speaker announced the Standing Committees.

Schenck is Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee; Garfield of Committee on Military Affairs; Thad. Stevens of Committee on Appropriations. These are the principal changes.

A resolution was offered by Washburne and adopted, declaring that in the present financial condition of the country any further purchase of Territory is inexpedient, and the House will hold itself under no obligations to vote money to pay for such purchases. Washburne explained that he did not intend the resolution to apply to Walrussia; but to give notice to Denmark and all the world that the House will not feel bound for any other new Territory.

Boutwell presented majority report from Judiciary Committee recommending the impeachment of the President, signed by Boutwell, Thomas, Williams, Lawrence, and Churchill. The report charges the President with usurpation of power and violation of the law in the corrupt abuse of the appointing, pardoning and veto power; with corrupt interference in elections, and generally with the commission of acts amounting to high crimes and misdemeanors under the Constitution. The report specifies events since the inauguration of Johnson, and finds him guilty of neglecting to convene Congress after the final surrender of the rebel armies and the overthrow of the rebel government. That by its authority legal and constitutional measures might have been taken for the organizing of loyal constitutional governments in the late rebel States. That in his proclamation of May 29th, 1865, he assumed authority to decide whether the government of North Carolina was republican in form, which was contrary to the opinion of the Supreme Court, declaring that Congress is exclusively vested with power to decide whether the government of a State is republican or not. It recites a number of other acts in the creation of provisional governments and [illegible] unknown to the Constitution or laws, illegally, and taking from the Treasury money to pay their salaries; with the pardoning of Northern traitors; with having authorized the levy of taxes, etc., all of which, with his neglect of duty, are usurpations of power and violations of his oath of office and of the Constitution and laws, and retarded public prosperity, [illegible] the public revenues, disordered business, encouraged insubordination of the Southern people, kept alive a spirit of rebellion and postponed the peaceful organization of the Government. The committee therefore recommended the passage of resolutions impeaching the President of high crimes and misdemeanors.

Wilson and Woodbridge presented a minority report declaring that the committee has not a particle of evidence which could be received by any court in the land. They declare that bad spirit should be laid aside and the interests of the republic only be consulted. They refer to legal authority to show that impeachment cannot be supported by any act which falls short of an indictable crime or misdemeanor. It says viewed in the political light of the case, the President has disappointed the expectations of those who placed him in power, betrayed confidence, joined hands with their [illegible] and in this view deserves the censure and [illegible] of all good citizens; but that his political unfitness and incapacity must be tried at the ballot box, and not in a high court of impeachment. It cautions against [illegible] as unprofitable. There almost [illegible] produces a revolution. Cool judgment of the future will decide. Political bitterness they [illegible] has largely given tone to the majority report. We, therefore, say Wilson and Woodbridge, declare that the testimony does not disclose such high crimes as within the meaning of the Constitution [illegible] the interposition of the constitutional power of this House, and we [illegible] the following resolution discharging the Committee from further consideration of the subject of impeachment.

Marshall and Eldridge, Democrats, also submitted a report, declaring the President's [illegible] to be his inability to follow the radical party in their mad assaults upon and departure from constitutional government. Their report declares that the majority report is not founded upon facts [illegible] by the testimony taken by the committee, but that it is a political spleen growing out of a difference of views on political questions. This spirit has [illegible] the entire [illegible] throughout the whole investigation. The President, they say, has committed no offence [illegible] him to the official jurisdiction of the Judiciary Committee of the House.

The [illegible] of the subject was postponed to W[illegible] of next week.

B[illegible] introduced a bill [illegible] the effect of the impeachment of any civil officer. It was referred to the Judiciary Committee.

A large number of bills were introduced and referred, among them was one [illegible] by Butler providing that all debts contracted to be paid in gold shall be so paid, and all debts contracted to be paid in greenbacks shall be so paid. Adjourned.

In the House, a resolution was adopted asking Grant to communicate any [illegible] address to the President on the subject of the removal of Stanton, Sheridan and [illegible]; also the correspondence in reference to the [illegible] difficulty at Baltimore; also that in reference to the mission of S[illegible] to Mexico in 1866.

On motion of W[illegible], the Military Committee was directed to inquire into the [illegible] of [illegible] the army [illegible].

Ross, [illegible], of Illinois, offered a resolution instructing the Committee on Banks and Currency to report a bill to provide for the withdrawal of all National Bank currency, and to supply the same with greenbacks. The House refused to lay the [illegible] on the table by 101 against 51, and the resolution was referred to the Committee on Banks.

A resolution was adopted instructing the Committee on Ways and Means to inquire into the expediency of modifying the [illegible] tax so as to impose a tax on [illegible] according to their capacity. Other resolutions were [illegible] and [illegible].

A [illegible] was adopted to adjourn to [illegible] until Monday.

W[illegible], Nov. 27.—Congress did [illegible] to-day. Both [illegible] to [illegible].

Brevt. Maj. Gen. McDowell, [illegible], Sch[illegible]ld, Ord and Canby are assigned to duty according to their brevet rank.

The [illegible] has decided to admit W[illegible] and Beck of Kentucky, as members. All the other K[illegible] will receive their [illegible] Y[illegible], whose seat will be given to McKee, the [illegible].

The United States Judges have [illegible] the [illegible] of a law authorizing the [illegible] of a jury to try [illegible] from Pennsylvania or Ohio.

The Committee on Ways and Means has [illegible] a bill repealing the cotton tax.

Butler favors the cancellation of all [illegible] bills of [illegible] the Treasury, and the issue of [illegible] in the same [illegible]. Then the whole bank currency will be withdrawn in less than six months.

Washington News.

[illegible], Nov. 27.—The [illegible] Washington special says Grant has [illegible] that all the regiments of [illegible], and all the Artillery [illegible] the light [illegible], be reduced to the minimum allowed by law—fifty privates for each company. The [illegible] which may be made by [illegible], when one company falls below the [illegible], transfer to be made up from the other [illegible] of the same regiment till [illegible] the [illegible]. The [illegible] recruiting service is to be reduced [illegible] up there [illegible] station [illegible] the [illegible]. The superintendents of recruiting are to be ordered to return to their regiments. All volunteer officers will be mustered out, January 1st, [illegible] discharging [illegible] reason. This order is [illegible] the army to 42,000 men, and to save [illegible] or eight millions annually.

There has been a settlement with France & Trenholm as to the title to the Confederate property in their [illegible] upon the [illegible] of Lee. This gives the Government four or five ships of war, and cotton valued at 730,000 pounds sterling.

A warrant has been sworn out for the arrest of detective Col. Baker, on a charge of false swearing before the [illegible] at the instance of Mrs. Cobb. The [illegible] are Gregg [illegible] Wilson, Eldridge, Marshall and Mrs. Cobb. Baker swears that Mrs. Cobb confessed that the P[illegible] know that she received pay for [illegible] pardons; also that she visited the P[illegible] room and [illegible] all night for a lewd purpose.

Jeff. Davis' Trial Postponed.

[illegible], Nov. 26.—The trial of Jeff. Davis is postponed to the [illegible] Wednesday in March next, and his bail extended to that time.

Reciprocity with Canada.

MONTREAL, Nov. 26.—In the Canadian House of Commons to-day, Cartier stated that the Provincial Government would take the first opportunity to obtain a renewal of the reciprocity treaty with the United States.

Louisiana Convention.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 26. Eighty-five members are present in the Convention. Judge Taliaferro was elected permanent President with a colored Secretary and Sergeant-at-Arms.

Weston, the Pedestrian.

CHICAGO, Nov. 26.—Weston failed last night in his fifth and last attempt to walk a hundred miles in 24 hours. He is now within 25 miles of Chicago, and will undoubtedly make the trip within the specified time.

CHICAGO, Nov. 28.—Weston, the pedestrian, arrived at 10 o'clock, winning his wager. He claims that he walked 1,300 miles in twenty-six days. He lost a portion of the wager requiring him to walk 100 miles in 24 hours. Immense crowds of people fill the streets.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

PARIS, Nov. 26.—The Emperor of Russia and Austria have formally signified their intention to participate in the [illegible] conference of Powers. The course of P[illegible] is not known, but it is believed she will send a [illegible]. It is said that France and Austria have concluded a special treaty in regard to the future policy of the Western question, in which they pledge themselves to [illegible] the territorial integrity of the Ottoman Empire. F[illegible] has agreed to the proposition for a [illegible].

The [illegible] annexation of [illegible] Territory has already [illegible].

BERLIN, Nov. 27.—The Prussian Diet has adopted a resolution declaring that the Prussian Constitution guarantees liberty of speech. The vote was the result of discussion on the case of Deputy Wesson, who had been heavily sentenced for words in debate.

OUR SAN FRANCISCO DISPATCH.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 29.—The Caledonia club met at the Mission yesterday, to participate in the Scottish National games. The winners of the principal prizes were as follows: Game of quoits, Geo. G. Scott; putting or throwing the stone, 22 pounds, Wm. McLean—distance, 26 feet one inch; throwing the hammer, Wm. McLean—distance, 79 feet one inch; tossing the caber, pole, C. Chisholm; running leap, A. Forman—distance, 16 feet two inches; short race, 150 yards, J. G. Gudgers; three-[illegible] race, Geo. G. Scott and A. F. McDonald; running hop, step and leap, 39 feet; long race, 300 yards, A. Forman.

Early this morning Chas. McCabe attacked an unoffending Chinaman at the Italian fish market. The market man interfered and drove McCabe away. He returned in a short time, seized a large fish knife, and cut Malcisco Pettrino across the face, nearly severing his nose and cutting both cheeks open. The other Italian market men rushed at McCabe with their butcher knives and would have annihilated him but for the interference of Dave Scannell and some others. Patience's wounds are severe, but not dangerous.

Several members of the incoming Legislature visited the Industrial School yesterday and partook of a Thanksgiving dinner there.

T. H. Hittel, counsel for Judge Rix, in the Provines vs. Rix case, received a telegram from Sacramento to-day stating that the Supreme Court had overruled the decision of Judge Dwinelle; that Mr. Provines was entitled to his seat at once, and decided that Mr. Rix is entitled to hold for the fall term, to which the late Judge P. H. Sheppard was elected.

A NOTED CLERGYMAN AND PUBLIC LECTURER says of "Brown's Bronchial Troches:" "In all my lecturing tours, I put Troches into my carpet bag as regularly as I do lectures or linen." Public speakers, vocalists, and all who exercise the voice, should never fail of using the Troches. They surpass all other preparations in clearing and strengthening the voice, removing hoarseness, allaying irritation of the throat, and as a cough remedy they are the best.

FROM MR. PITTOCK.—I have used some of Henley's Royal Balsam in my family, and think it is splendid medicine for children, as well as for grown persons. For coughs and colds I freely recommend it to the public.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF IDAHO—BOISE CITY, I. T.—Organized March 11th, 1867, (with circulation) under Act of Congress, approved June 3d, 1864. Authorized capital $500,000. Paid up capital, $100,000. B. M. DuRell, President. C. W. Moore, Cashier. Collections of Notes and Accounts on the principal places in Idaho Territory promptly attended to. Exchange for Coin or Currency on this Bank can be purchased of Ladd & Tilton, Portland, Oregon.

SEVERAL GENTLEMEN ELECTED to the Legislature of Washington Territory left this morning for Olympia, in good spirits and very sanguine to carry their different points. Those that have bought their nice and well-fitting suits of KOHN & FISHEL will certainly make a good impression, and will convince our Washington Territory friends that the only and best place to buy Clothing as well as Dry Goods is at KOHN & FISHEL'S, No. 91 Front street.

Bachtel's Photograph Gallery is the only establishment in Oregon that is thoroughly prepared to do all the different styles of work in the art. Photographs from card to life size. The new cabinet cards, &c., &c. Small pictures enlarged (retouched in India ink—painted in water-colors or oil by Mrs. S. J. B[illegible]y. Pictures that are fading can be reproduced in this way. All negatives taken in this gallery will be carefully preserved, and additional copies had. I have now on hand a very large collection of negatives, the names of which are recorded alphabetically in a book for that purpose that can be seen in the reception room.

AND THAT ALL MAY OBSERVE

The Christmas and New Years' HOLIDAYS!

I herewith issue my Annual PROCLAMATION!!!

I've come, my dear people, among you once more,
Keeping up the good custom established of yore
I bid you all w[illegible]e! I wish you good cheer
A right merry Christmas and Happy New Year!
You will find me this year, as you have heretofore,
At McCormick's, on Front street—the Franklin Book Store
Where I've opened my Budget—'twas filled to the brim
With every nice Toy that could talk, walk or swim.
I've Musical Work Boxes—and Guitars for the fair
And Gifts for the Gents that are both rich and rare,
Whilst my Budget includes the nicest new Toys
Intended as Gifts to good Girls and Boys!
I've the Ark in which Grandfather Noah was kept
When all other creatures from the world were swept,
(For men in those days would in evil persist,
So the world was washed by an Oregon mist!)
I've Babies of Rubber, of wax and of leather,
(They were all made to order), and well put together;
I've Vases and Cups nicely gilded outside,
And little Cock Horses for Bobbies to ride;
I've Cannon and Pistols which cannot explode,
For the reason they hold neither wadding or load.
I've steamboats that run—you just wind them in front
And they'll beat the Oneonta or the Wilson G. Hunt.
I've a new Locomotive—It can never explode,
'Twas built for the use of Groton's Railroad,
I've Engines that play—Set them down on the floor
And they'll throw greater streams than old '2' or new '4.'
I've Furniture, Fiddles, and French Puzzles,
Soldiers that look like R. B. Pioneers.
I've Swords made of tin—Guns and Pistols as well,
And the new kind of Drum that rings like a bell.
I've Masks of all sizes—I've Grace Hoops, galore,
And you'll find at McCORMICK'S a thousand Toys more,
On FRONT STREET the Store is—105,
Where TOYS are as plenty as bees in a hive;
Go there and buy them—this is my request,
His Prices are Low and his Stock is the Best.

P[illegible] to Judge Shattuck.—The officers and attorneys of the Circuit Court for this county yesterday [illegible] presented to Judge Shattuck a magnificent gold watch and chain, upon the occasion of his retirement from the bench, as a token of their esteem for him as the presiding officer of the court and as a private gentleman. We believe that, without exception, the officers and attorneys united in the purchase of the testimonial, as well as in the expression of high regard which it conveyed to the recipient. J. H. Reed, Esq., made the presentation in behalf of the donors, in a speech of some ten minutes' length, in which he appropriately and eloquently referred to the uniform relations of courtesy and good will which have always existed between the court and bar; the untiring patience and labors bestowed by the Judge in [illegible] the right and wrong; his watchful [illegible] of stain upon the judicial ermine; and the distinguished ability he had brought to the discharge of his official duties. The speech of Mr. Reed was a gem in its way, and we sincerely regret that we are obliged to speak of it from hearsay and that we cannot print it as spoken.

In accepting the testimonial Judge Shattuck said in [illegible] terms, that this action on the part of the bar and officers of the court was entirely unlooked for, and took him by surprise; that it would be received in the spirit in which it was offered; that for the compliment paid in the address of the speaker presenting the gift, as well as for the gift itself, he offered his thanks; adding that he was not conscious of deserving any such manifestations from the officers of the court or from the public. On the other hand, a retrospect of the period of his judicial [illegible] brought to mind many imperfections of judgment and many occasions when he had felt himself inadequate to the duties required. He said the speaker had [illegible] to the arduous nature of judicial labors, and to the patience required for their due performance. Upon this point the Judge said he had often been deeply impressed by the force of a remark attributed to Judge Caruthers, of Tennessee, when asked how he could endure the toil of his position, he replied that it was sometimes the case that all a man had in the world was at stake in a lawsuit; sometimes the very subsistence of wife and children was involved in a case in court; sometimes a man's life, often a man's liberty hung upon the decision of judge and jury, and for a judge there was no other alternative but [illegible]. These views of duty had often been [illegible] his mind, and if sometimes the [illegible] to relieve the public [illegible] incident to the [illegible] of courts, and a wish to shorten the sittings, he had lacked patience, and curtailed the labors of [illegible], it had rarely been done without leaving some regret and a fear that something might thereby have been done [illegible]. The [illegible] that he could not bring to the position the [illegible] strength of patience which it required, had been no trifling consideration in his determination to abandon it. Yet he did not leave it without some regret, and his relations with the gentlemen of the bar and officers of the court had been pleasant, and if anything had been done well, to the attorneys and [illegible] it was, in a large degree, due. Without able attorneys and faithful and vigilant officers to aid him, [illegible] no Judge could hope to fulfill the duties of his position. To the attorneys and officers of the court he wished to return his thanks for their kindness, courtesy and aid through his whole term of [illegible] and the good wishes [illegible] the future, which the speaker had expressed he wished to reciprocate; This gift [illegible], and he would ever keep alive [illegible] recollections of this [illegible].

The [illegible] is of rich and [illegible] make and cost about [illegible]. On the [illegible] of the case it is inscribed, "To Hon. E. D. Shattuck, from Attorneys and officers of the Circuit [illegible], Nov. 29th, 1867." The presentation was witnessed by quite a large audience of the mutual friends of the [illegible], each of whom will long [illegible] the impressive [illegible].

[illegible] Library Association.—The library rooms of the Library Association of Portland, were [illegible] and dedicated last evening. This institution had its origin some [illegible] since among the [illegible] of this [illegible], its memberships are not [illegible] to the members of any organization [illegible] are open to all persons, the design being [illegible] club room and entertaining reading [illegible] great good, especially for young men. [illegible] view, the price of admission to membership is [illegible] with a monthly tax of twenty-five cents, the [illegible] which will entitle any person to all the privileges of the [illegible] and the library. The executive committee [illegible] purchased about fifty volumes and a [illegible] number will be acquired in a few days, by [illegible] and donations. They also have about seventy [illegible] papers, and design to have and keep on file [illegible] of the United States. To transient [illegible] will be particularly valuable, as persons [illegible] any section of the United States will be able to find [illegible] the files a home paper. It was not [illegible] of the founders of this institution that it should be in any [illegible] opposition or rival to any similar one in the city, but that it should merely supply what other [illegible] club and reading rooms. The [illegible] on Front street, over [illegible] book store.

[illegible].—At a special meeting of the [illegible] Library Association, held at their rooms on the 28th inst., the following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That the thanks of this Association be tendered the following [illegible] for a liberal supply of [illegible] for the furnishing of the Library and Reading Rooms: [illegible], Lowenstein & Co., Hurgren [illegible], McHenry, J. O'Connor & Co., W. D. Carter, B. J. McC[illegible]. By order,

JAMES A. WATERS,
Secretary of the Board.

All persons who may wish to visit the rooms are respectfully invited to call [illegible] the hours of 10 A. M., and 10 [illegible] P. M.

[illegible].—On Thursday, Thanksgiving day, nearly all the principal [illegible] were closed, and [illegible]. In the morning [illegible] were held in nearly all the churches, the [illegible], however, [illegible] so large as on [illegible] days. We heard of numerous private and family [illegible] who celebrated the day in the good old Yankee style, by [illegible] eating Thanksgiving dinners of [illegible] pies, [illegible], etc., and having an unusually [illegible] time generally. We have never seen [illegible] more generally [illegible] anywhere in the west, than on last Thursday.

[illegible] Court—In Vacation.—Proceedings of Nov. 28th:

[illegible] McCormick appointed administrator of the estate of [illegible] G. Robinson, deceased. D. J. Malarky, [illegible] A. Carr and A. [illegible] appointed appraisers of [illegible]. Letters to issue to administrator upon filing [illegible] in the sum of $8,000.

Nov. 29th—Estate of John Rae, J. Myrick appointed [illegible]; sum of bonds fixed at $10,000.

The regular term of the County Court for [illegible] will commence on next Monday.

Circuit Court—Shattuck, Judge.—Proceedings of Friday, Nov. 29th:

[illegible] vs. J. S. Ruckle and H. Olmstead; judgment by default against defendants for $147 66, and costs.

State of Oregon vs. [illegible] Taylor; bail reduced from [illegible] to $1,000.

Wm. [illegible] vs. [illegible] and Thomas Helms; confirmation of sheriff's sale of real estate on execution.

[illegible] vs. [illegible] Rudloff; decree of divorce.

[illegible] till 9 o'clock A. M. to-day.

[illegible].—Arrived per steamer Alert yesterday, 1,140 [illegible], 165 boxes apples, 12 empty barrels, 307 bags wheat, 9 bales and 2 cases woolen goods, 46 boxes [illegible] produce, 24 hf bbls dried apples. Arrived by same steamer on Thursday, 8 bales woolen goods, 2,076 qr sks flour, 87 boxes apples, 11 gunnies bacon, 19 boxes produce, 3 cases mdse, 13 half bbls. dried apples, 15 [illegible] poultry, 450 bags wheat, 4 sks oysters, 1 box eggs, 11 coops chickens.

Not Shipped.—The members of Protection Engine Co. No. 4, have been making preparations to receive their new steam fire engine, expecting it to arrive by the Montana. Yesterday, a telegram was received to the effect that it was not shipped by that steamer, in consequence of the inability to get it between decks. It will probably, however, be shipped by the Ajax next Tuesday, and [illegible] will yet arrive in due time for the contemplated [illegible] which are expected to take place on or about the middle of December.

An Extra Steamer.—Mr. Geo. W. Weidler, agent for the C. O. & M. S. S. Co., informs us that the steamship Ajax will sail from San Francisco for this port on Tuesday, Dec. 3d. This will be good news to the dealers in [illegible] who have heretofore experienced considerable [illegible] in consequence of the regular steamers being [illegible] to carry away the produce as fast as it arrives from the interior.

The Fenian Guard Ball.—The Thanksgiving ball given by the Fenian Guard, Thursday evening, though not a large one, was a very pleasant affair. Under the management of the floor committee, everything went very agreeably for all, so far as we could see. The festivities were continued till the clock had told several of the "wee sma' hours," and then the boys "went home with the girls in the morning."

A Disastrous Fight.—A couple of men, named Condon and Fielding, got into a fight yesterday, at the corner of North Front and B streets, in the course of which the latter had his leg broken badly near the ankle. As the matter will undoubtedly undergo judicial investigation, no good will result from stating beforehand any of the particulars.

The Baptist Church Tower.—The new tower in front of the Baptist church on Fourth street, is near enough [illegible] to give a very correct idea of how it will appear when done. It is a very handsome, neat structure and in size bears just about the right proportion to the [illegible]. The job reflects credit upon the designer and [illegible].

The Firemen's Ball at Vancouver.—We learn the the ball given by Engine Co. No. 1 of Vancouver, Thursday night, resulted very satisfactorily to the company in a pecuniary point of view, and that everybody enjoyed the occasion highly. Glad to hear it.

[illegible].—The annual election of the Fire Department will take place on Monday, the 2d day of December. Thus far, but one public announcement has been made of a candidate for Chief Engineer, and but one for [illegible].

U. S. District Court.—Pursuant to adjournment, the U. S. District Court will resume its sittings on Monday next, at which time the opinion of the Judge in the case of Dick vs. Hamilton et al, will be announced.

Gone from our Gaze.—Quite a large number of the members of the W. T. Legislature, took their departure from this city, yesterday morning, for Olympia. We acknowledge friendly calls from most of them.

Treasure Receipt.—Wells, Fargo & Co. received on Thursday from the upper Columbia $15,000.

Barman's new Fall and Winter styles of Clothing have just arrived by the Montana, and will be opened to-day. All who have been waiting for the latest and best styles, can get them by calling at Barman's, corner of Front and Morrison.

Distinguished Arrival.—Santa Claus has arrived in this city and established his head-quarters at the Franklin Book Store. For particulars, see McCormick's advertisement which details the circumstances attending the advent with great particularity. Don't fail to read, for Mac's muse has been turned loose.

Removal.—Mr. D. Metzger has lately removed his stock of merchandise to the new brick, corner First and Madison streets, where he will be pleased to see all his old customers. Farmers should give him a call, as he purchases all kinds of produce. See advertisement.

Holiday Raffles.—A lot of magnificent furs will be raffled off at the Gem Saloon, about Christmas. To learn terms, or to buy tickets, call at the Gem, where the furs are on exhibition.

Fitz Greene Halleck, the eminent poet, died at New Haven on the 19th of November. He was born at Guilford (Conn.) July 8, 1795. Some of his poems are among the most celebrated in American literature. The chief of these popular pieces is Marco Bozzaris. His writings, consisting of poems, sketches, essays, etc., are quite numerous, though the productions on which his reputation mainly rests were written before he was thirty years of age.

Robbery.—The Idaho World says that Major Perry, U. S. A., was robbed of $1,500 in greenbacks at Idaho City on the night of the 20th inst. The money was stolen after he went to bed. His clothing, in the pockets of which the money was contained, was placed under his head; but during the night it was removed and the money abstracted. No clue to the money was obtained.

The Unionist has the following: As the time for holding our State and county elections approaches, the Copperheads become more noisy, and assume to be more sanguine of success. All of their old tricks are brought into requisition, such as boasting of new accessions to the party, and [illegible] in the Union ranks. In this county, they are busy circulating a report to the effect that a number of leading Union men in and about Salem have deserted their colors and joined the Copperheads. It is scarcely necessary to say that the whole story is false, and those who seek to give currency to such reports are simply laboring to promote Copperhead interests. It is an old dodge, characteristic of very small demagogues.

SHATTERED CONSTITUTIONS RESTORED by Helmbold's Extract Buchu.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU and Improved Rose Wash cures secret and delicate disorders in all their stages, at little expense, little or no change in diet, no inconvenience and no exposure. It is pleasant in taste and odor, immediate in its action and free from all injurious properties.

DR. C. W. COOL
Has Returned to Portland, and can be found at his residence on Third St., bet. Alder and Washington.

Those who desire FIRST-CLASS DENTAL SERVICES might do well to give him a call. He is making a NEW AND IMPROVED VULCANITE PLATE; the nature of his improvement consists in lining the entire concave surface with fine gold: it makes the plate twice as strong and one-third times thinner than the common vulcanite plate. It also prevents the acids of the mouth from roughing the plate, and from turning it black, which is a common occurrence. One-half of the common vulcanite plates turn black after being in use a short time, particularly where tobacco is used for smoking. His new style of plate admits of a very fine finish on the concave or palate surface. His office is the only place where such work can be had. The improvement is his own invention, for which he has made application to the United States Patent Office for a patent. He has been making this style of work for the last two-and-a-half years, and has specimens of the work which can be seen at his residence and office on Third street. This work has given satisfaction in every case.

Price for upper teeth, $50; full set, upper and lower, $75 00. oc31dtf

THE GLORY OF MAN IS STRENGTH.—Therefore the nervous and debilitated should immediately use Helmbold's Extract Buchu.

Dr. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters.—The stomach is the fountain-head of scores of diseases which infest the human system, Indigestion, bad enough per se, generates diarrhoea, faintness, vertigo, palpitation of the heart, general debility, etc. Get rid of it, then, at once by going through a course of

Dr. HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS,

A palatable and refreshing preparation, which as surely relieves all complaints of the stomach and its dependencies, as the sunshine melts the snow. A course of the medicine may not perhaps be necessary. One bottle frequently accomplishes a complete cure. Sold by all Druggists and dealers everywhere.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU

Is a certain cure for diseases of the BLADDER, KIDNEYS, GRAVEL, DROPSY, ORGANIC WEAKNESS, FEMALE COMPLAINTS, GENERAL DEBILITY, and all diseases of the URINARY ORGANS,

whether existing in MALE OR FEMALE,

from whatever cause originating and no matter of HOW LONG STANDING.

Diseases of these organs require the use of a diuretic. If no treatment is submitted to, Consumption or Insanity may ensue. Our flesh and blood are supported from these sources, and the

HEALTH AND HAPPINESS,

and that of Posterity, depends upon prompt use of a reliable remedy.

PERRY DAVIS' VEGETABLE PAIN KILLER.

THE UNIVERSAL REMEDY FOR INTERNAL AND EXTERNAL COMPLAINTS!

At this period there are but few of the human race unacquainted with the merits of the Pain Killer; but while some extol it as a liniment, they know but little of its power in easing pain when taken internally, while others use it internally with great success, but are equally ignorant of its healing virtues when applied externally. We therefore wish to say to all that it is equally successful whether used internally or externally, and it stands alone, unrivalled by all the great catalogue of Family Medicines, and its sale is universal and immense. The demand for it from India and other foreign countries is equal to the demand at home, and it has become known in these far off places by its merits.

FOR NON-RETENTION or INCONTINENCE of Urine, irritation, inflammation, or ulceration of the bladder or kidneys, diseases of the prostrate glands, stone in the bladder, calculus, gravel or brick dust deposits, and all diseases of the bladder, kidneys and dropsical swellings, Use Helmbold's Fluid Extract Buchu.

HOSTETTER'S

CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS!

A Pure and Powerful Tonic,

Corrective and Alterative, of wonderful efficacy in Diseases of the STOMACH, LIVER AND BOWELS.

PROTECTIVE PROPERTIES.

[illegible] Fever and Ague and Billious Remittent Fever [illegible] the [illegible] and the evil effects of unwholesome water; invigorates the organs of digestion and the bowels;

Steadies the Nerves and tends to Prolong Life.

REMEDIAL PROPERTIES.

[illegible] Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Sick and Nervous [illegible], General Debility, Nervousness, Depression of Spirits, Constipation, Colic, Intermittent Fevers, Sea Sickness, [illegible] and [illegible], and all [illegible] resulting from Bodily Weakness, whether [illegible] in the system or

PRODUCED BY SPECIAL CAUSES.

NOTHING THAT IS NOT WHOLESOME, GENIAL, and restorative in its nature, enters into the composition of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. This popular preparation contains no mineral of any kind, no deadly botanical element; no fiery excitant; but it is a combination of the extracts of rare balsamic herbs and plants, with the purest and [illegible] of all [illegible].

The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated, and the appetite restored by this Tonic, and hence it works wonders in cases of Dyspepsia, and in less confirmed forms of Indigestion. Acting as a gentle and painless aperient, as well as upon the liver, it also invariably relieves the Constipation superinduced by irregular action of the digestive and [illegible] organs.

Persons of [illegible] habit, liable to Nervous Attacks, Lowness of Spirits, and Fits of Languor, find prompt and permanent relief from the Bitters. The [illegible] on this point is conclusive, and from both sexes.

As a General Tonic, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS produces effects which must be experienced or witnessed before they can be fully appreciated. In cases of Constitutional Weakness, Premature Decay, and Debility and Decrepitude arising from old age, it exercises the [illegible] influence. In the convalescent stages of all diseases it operates as a delightful invigorant. When the powers of nature are relaxed, it operates to re-enforce and re-establish them.

Last, but not least, it is the only safe stimulant, being manufactured from sound and innocuous materials, and entirely free from the acrid elements present more or less in all the ordinary tonics and stomachics of the day.

Broken Vows.

Prom[illegible]s are lightly spoken;
Vows on which we blindly build,
(Uttered only to be broken),
Go forever unfulfilled.
Oft betrayed but still believing—
D[illegible] and yet gr[illegible]
All our hoping, all our grieving
Warns us, but it warns in vain.

From the cradle to the [illegible]—
From the sunny days of youth—
We are taught the simple moral,
Still we doubt the moral's truth.
When a boy, they found me rather
Loth to do as I was bid,
"I shall buy a birch," said father.
Broken vows! He never did.

Grown extravagant, when youthful,
In my tailor's debt I ran;
He [illegible] about as truthful
In his talk as any man
Let me tell you how he sold me
"Look you, Mr. What's-Your-Name?
I shall summons you," he told me—
But the summons never came.

Through the meadows, daisy-laden,
Once it was my lot to stray,
Talking to a lovely maiden
In a very spooney way;
And I stole a kiss—another—
Then another—then a lot.
"Fie!" she said. "I'll tell my mother."
Idle words, she told her not.

Was Man Originally Savage?

At a meeting of the British Association at Dundee, Sir John Lubbock, Bart., F. R. S., President of the Entomological Society, made an interesting contribution on the above subject. The late Archbishop Whately held that we have no reason to suppose that any community ever did or ever can emerge unassisted from a state of utter barbarism into anything that can be called civilization. Having pointed out the difficulty of producing evidence to satisfy Whately of the utter primeval barbarism of a race, Sir John went into evid[illegible] showing that civilized races are [illegible] and [illegible] ants of [illegible] that have ri[illegible] from barbarism. If it was ask[illegible] how it w[illegible] to pass the Australian had not ad[illegible] to the same stage as the European races, Sir John Lubbock answered, because Australia [illegible] neither cereals nor animals that can be domesticated with any advantage; and asked if the Australian is degraded? why is not the European equally degraded? Whately quoted President Smith, that if man had been left an outcast [illegible] of nature, he must have perished before he learned to supply his urgent wants. The writer answered that the same may be said of the gorilla, or the [illegible], who were certainly not the degraded descendants of civilized [illegible]. Among the facts which he said to militate against Whately's view, Sir John mentioned the following; Whately [illegible] kind originally [illegible] and [illegible] The [illegible], North and South Americans, and several other [illegible] savage [illegible] were [illegible] ignorant of [illegible] and cultivating the soil. He [illegible] that such easy and adv[illegible] ever [illegible]. Lost civilization would [illegible]. No trace of a bone of [illegible] had been found in the whole [illegible] of Australia, or of the horse. Cultivated cereals [illegible] in a wild state, and [illegible] forms; but other plants follow in the train of [illegible]. [illegible] that the [illegible] before the white man, just as the [illegible] the native rat, the [illegible] driven away the [illegible], and the [illegible] kills the New Zealand fern. The [illegible] and form of [illegible] of a former [illegible] instruments of [illegible] have ever [illegible] discovered in any country [illegible] savages. [illegible] a still stronger argument, and [illegible] found in Australia [illegible] None of [illegible] arts, [illegible] spinning, was likely to have been abandoned if once known. In the [illegible] way Sir John [illegible] to religion, [illegible] wholly [illegible]. Had it [illegible] been lost. [illegible] part of Sir John's argument was that [illegible] savage [illegible]. The inhabitants of the Andaman Islands have [illegible] the Wajiji [illegible] have [illegible] the Tahitians had [illegible] by Cook. Some of the [illegible] tribes [illegible] native [illegible] of a steep inadvance. [illegible] found among [illegible]. If the [illegible] letters, [illegible] writing? The [illegible] often [illegible] no Australian [illegible] the [illegible] of native and [illegible] part of the [illegible] that the most civilized [illegible]. In the [illegible] Palestine and Syria, and in India, the [illegible] of a slow [illegible]. Why were [illegible] knives [illegible] by Jewish and Egyptian [illegible] just [illegible] they had [illegible] been in [illegible] use? The regard paid to [illegible] also a [illegible] of [illegible] progress. [illegible] not arrived at the idea of [illegible] marriage [illegible] part of his p[illegible]. In [illegible] the tie is of [illegible]. This is the [illegible] the idea of marriage [illegible] for the two [illegible] part of the [illegible] that [illegible] this [illegible]. Only as things improved, and the [illegible] of parentage [illegible] only was [illegible]. Sir John [illegible] to reply to the argument of [illegible], that the [illegible] of certain [illegible] proved they were [illegible] ghosts, etc., was easily [illegible] for by the [illegible] through which the people [illegible] natural. The Australians do not believe in natural [illegible]. When a man dies, they take it for [illegible] he has been [illegible] by witchcraft, and the only [illegible] is who is the [illegible]. Sir John Lubbock thought that [illegible] countries [illegible] their [illegible] not to the [illegible] of the human race, but to the original identity of the human mind.

THE GRAIN TRADE IN EUROPE.—The Pall Mall Gazette says:

Arrivals of grain [illegible] are [illegible] each [illegible] at Ma[illegible], and affairs are conducted there with great animation and proportionate firmness. What is expected at Marseilles from [illegible], the harvest has been good. [illegible] has been done at Odessa, but the [illegible] have been keenly disputed between [illegible] and English [illegible]. The ad[illegible] has [illegible] more decided in Germany and even in [illegible] Hungary, in which [illegible] Europe has [illegible] can deliver her supplies but [illegible] of her railway communication. The last return as to the [illegible] of [illegible] per [illegible] in every [illegible] of the empire except the [illegible]; the general result for the whole of France was a rise of [illegible] per quintal as compared with the preceding statement.

THE FRANCO-AMERICAN CABLE.—The London Times says the new submarine cable from France to the United States will extend from Brest to St. Pierre Miquelon, following a plateau which has been sounded very carefully. From St. Pierre the cable [illegible] to New York, will follow the English coast of New Brunswick and the American littoral of the States of Maine, New Hampshire, Massachusetts and Connecticut. At first sight it might appear [illegible] to carry the line from Brest to New York direct, but [illegible] this subject it would be necessary to carry the cable [illegible] parts of the bed of the Atlantic which are [illegible]. The [illegible] of submersion is expected to begin in May, 1868.

The following, from one of our exchanges, is suggestive: Commend us at all times to the society of a young married lady. She has left off all [illegible], and for[illegible] flirtation, and the [illegible] from the sanctity of her husband a certain strength of mind, which, tempered by her maiden dignity, enables her to discuss almost any subject with ease. She is at home everywhere; may [illegible] in the ball room and talk at the dinner table the respect due to her position [illegible] her to be more free in her intercourse with[illegible] fear of remark. In short, if a man wishes for [illegible] conversation, with gentleness and [illegible], he must look for it in a young married lady.

THE COOLIES IN LOUISIANA.—A Southern paper says that the coolies recently imported from Cuba into Louisiana and Mississippi, are [illegible] substitute for the negroes. At first their inefficiency was attributed to a change of climate and the want of familiarity with the American agricultural implements and the manner of cultivation. The fact is that they are [illegible] of cultivating the soil profitably, and are not to be depended on in making a crop. They are lazy, mutinous, obstinate and thievish.

The Georgia papers publish an article headed, "How the President takes it." Some have seen him take it plain, but understand he generally takes it with sugar and a spoon.

Wine and Water Exhumed at Pompeii.

A Naples correspondent of the London Athenæum, gives the following interesting account of his discovery of water under the deposit that covers Pompeii:

Whilst at Vesuvius, we may as well look in upon Pompeii—and in truth there is good reason for doing so. On last Friday there was an excavation in the presence of the Minister of the Royal Household, when a wonderful discovery was made. It was a kitchen that was disinterred, and on one fornelli—small square holes or fireplaces, such as are in use in the present day, and are fed with charcoal—was found a copper vessel, supported by a tripod. The vessel or saucepan was hermetically closed and incrusted all over with lapilli, so that it required considerable force to open it. But how great was the surprise of those present to find that it was nearly full of water! The interior of the vessel presented no signs of oxidation, so that no one hesitated to taste of the water, when it was found perfectly sweet and good. Pompeii, then, which has enriched us, after the lapse of nearly two thousand years, with jewels and paintings, and sculptured marbles, which has almost supplied our tables with bread and honey, eggs and figs, and a variety of other luxuries, has now slaked our thirst with water deposited in a vase so far back as the reign of Titus, and by one of the victims, perhaps, of the fires of Vesuvius. How curious are these revelations of the inner life of a people long since mouldered into ashes! And what a frightful picture do they give us of that Dies Iræ, of the thunderings and the lightnings, and the smoking mountain, and the thick storm of ashes and of pumice stone which enveloped the fated city, smothering the sentinel in his box, prostrating in their agony whole families, of one of which we have now a lively relic, yet leaving a cauldron simmering, with preparations for the dinner of the dying and the dead! This it is which has just been discovered. To the common eye it is nothing but a copper vessel, value so much the pound; but look at it with the mind's eye, what a story it tells!

A few days later the same correspondent wrote as follows:

"But a short time has elapsed since I sent you a report of the discovery of a vessel full of water in Pompeii. It has now been analysed by Prof. DeLuca who fills the chair of chemistry in our University, and pronounced to contain the same proportions of oxygen and hydrogen as are found in common fountain water of the present day. There can be no doubt that it was placed there so long ago as the reign of the Emperor Titus. A similar fact has, I find, occurred several times. In 1862 a fountain was discovered in the cortile of a house decorated with the figures of wild boars, [illegible], dogs and masques. At the time the catastrophe occurred the key of the fountain was turned round, and the water shut in remained there. These figures are now amongst the bronzes in the museum; but unfortunately, in order to attach them more closely, a hole was made in the stomach of one of the animals, and the water escaped. Every one, too, who has visited the Museo Nationale will have observed a large key, once belonging to an aqueduct in the palace of Tiberius, in the island of Capri. In the interior, just under the screw, still remains a quantity of water; and one of the surprises practiced by the [illegible] on the visitor is to move the ponderous article backwards and forwards and make the water rattle. If this mild element has been found a [illegible] amidst the ruins of Pompeii, wine never was until last week. Wonders upon wonders! A glass amphora was then turned up with three or four fingers' depth of wine still remaining. Of course it is in a state of condensation—not hard, but rather in a gelatinous state. This, too, has been sent to Prof. DeLuca, and we may expect to hear in a few days the quality of the wines which were served at the tables of the Roman patricians."

EXPENSES OF RECONSTRUCTION.—Official returns show that the expenses of carrying out the reconstruction law have been kept within the estimate made when the bill was passed. The amount appropriated was a million and a half; of this, less than a million has been spent, and the most expensive part of the work, the registration, is nearly over. Up to the week ending November 28 there had been sent to the [illegible] of the several military districts, $1,494,728 93, leaving in the Treasury to the credit of the [illegible], $95,271 07. At the same date there were on the hands of these pay[illegible] balances amounting to $477,311 23, leaving in the Treasury, of the million and a half, $[illegible],062 29 unexpended.

An affectionate but playful wife in Springfield (Mass.), sent a note to her husband recently, written in a disguised hand, signed with a fictitious name, stating that she had often seen and admired him, and if he would inform her of a place of meeting she would go over to the rooms and they would become better acquainted. He [illegible] answered the note at once, appointing time and place of meeting. Both parties met at the appointed time and place, the lady heavily veiled, and proceeded to the rooms, where the veil was removed, and a grand tableau got down in the bills ensued. Assurance made on the part of the husband that it was all a joke, and that he knew it was her, all the time; wife is having a stylish bonnet, new cloak, and elegant silk dress made.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

WEEKLY REVIEW.

[illegible], FRIDAY, Nov. 29, 1867.

In New York on the 27th, gold was quoted at 139, at 11 o'clock A. M. [illegible] are quiet at 71½c buying and 72½ selling. The tendency of gold for two or three [illegible] has been slightly downward, though there have been almost daily fluctuations. The effect of these [illegible], on this coast, has been almost im[illegible], the quotations hovering very regularly about the same figures of 71@72. Very little is heard of late, of financial embarrassments in the east, from which it may be [illegible] that money matters are [illegible]. On this coast, [illegible], there has been, throughout the [illegible], a very easy money market, and the supply continues sufficient for the demand.

We have nothing new to note in the general range of jobbing prices in this market. During the week, there has been a marked quiet in trade. The want of shipping to convey away our large surplus of produce, is operating injuriously upon the [illegible] of the country. Our trade for the winter must be mainly with the merchants of the Willamette valley. Their trade with the people is very largely one of barter for produce. If produce must stop here for want of shipping, it is clear that the consequent indisposition to buy and store, must react detrimentally upon all branches of trade. It is safe to say that the bills of goods sold during the last week to interior merchants, were not more than [illegible]-five per cent so large as they would have been had there been a certainty of working off all the produce [illegible] this market, without delay. It is the opinion of many that we could and would load two ships per week if they would only come here. Instead of doing that, the dealers are given no opportunity to load more than [illegible] per month. The effect of this lack of tonnage is illustrated by the fact that the rise in the price of wheat from $2 35 to $2 60@2 65, in San Francisco on the 26th, has had no appreciable affect upon the bids of buyers here. They cannot buy until they can ship. The range for wheat in this city remains as last week 90@95c for red, and $1@1 10 for good white. Oats are in good demand at quotations.

The merchandise market is quiet. Jobbers have done but a moderate business in any branch of trade. This is [illegible] true in respect to dry goods and hardware. Grocers have sent off the best bills, but even they acknowledge greatly reduced transactions.

Last week, we predicted a decline in the price of cotton goods, but, though they are rather weak at quotations, dealers are not disposed to give way, in consequence of the advanced costs of freight from New York. While prices of goods are going down at the East, the prices of carriage are going up, and thus the people of this coast are deprived of the benefits of the eastern decline. We quote as before.

ROYAL BALSAM.

AS A
FAMILY MEDICINE
IT IS
WELL AND FAVORABLY KNOWN,
RELIEVING THOUSANDS
FROM COUGHS, COLDS,
Bronchitis,
ASTHMA, CROUP, HOARSENESS,
WHOOPING COUGH,
Influenza,
AND
ALL DISEASES
OF THE
Chest and Lungs.

THE ROYAL BALSAM!

HAS NOW BEEN BEFORE THE PUBLIC FOR A length of time, and wherever used is highly recommended, never failing in a single instance to give permanent relief when timely used; and we have never known a single case of dissatisfaction, but, on the contrary, all are delighted with it and speak in the highest terms of its magical effects. The astonishing efficacy of the ROYAL BALSAM, in curing the diseases for which it is recommended entitles it to the highest rank among the list of medicines, and no family can be without it after once trying it.

☞ Read the following testimonials from some of the most prominent citizens of Oregon:

MIRACULOUS CURE.

DR. HENLEY—Dear Sir: I feel it but a duty to inform you and the public what a miraculous effect your Royal Balsam had on my wife. She had been affected with a severe cough for several weeks, which had assumed a dangerous feature, for which many physicians have been trying without any material benefit, and all the remedies failed to give her any relief. Without relief was got I feared for the worst, in her present condition. The cough appeared to be worse at night, she could get no rest when Mr. Randall, of this place, advised me to try your Royal Balsam; all other remedies having failed, I concluded to try it, and I purchased two bottles. Strange to say, by the time I gave her three spoonfuls of the Balsam she got relief, and slept, a thing she had not done for three nights previous. By the time she had taken one bottle the cough was checked. Its effect was truly miraculous, as the cure was effectual: hence, I have no hesitation in recommending the Royal Balsam to all who are afflicted, and it appears astonishing to me that medicine of such great merit, and I might say magical effect, is not more in use. My candid opinion is, if persons use it once, they never be without it in the house.

Vancouver, March 1, 1867. H. COCHRAN.

From Wm. Doty.

North Yamhill, July 15, 1867.

DEAR DR. HENLEY—It is with sincere gratitude I undertake to write to you, what your Royal Balsam has done for me. For the last 12 years I have been afflicted with a severe cough and what also some of the physicians called the Bronchitis, and have spent a fortune to get cured, trying all the physicians and remedies I could get to no purpose. Through the influence of my neighbors (for you have a great name with them here,) I got a bottle of your Royal Balsam, and finding that it relieved me considerable I sent for a half dozen more. And now after one month using it I am perfectly cured. I gained ten pounds within a month and feel quite a different man. I send you this for publication for the benefit of humanity, that through my experience others in affliction may be relieved as I have been. Yours truly,

WILLIAM DOTY.

From Sophia M. Holman.

DEAR DR. HENLEY—It is my duty to inform you and the public, what a miraculous effect your Royal Balsam had on my children. Two of them had a very bad cough and cold, I got a bottle of the Royal Balsam, and gave them some at bedtime and some in the morning, and that was all that was needed to cure them. I was astonished at not hearing them cough again, but so it was. I find if you give it in larger doses it will make the children throw up in an instant, and I think, every mother ought to have a bottle of your Royal Balsam in the house, in case a child should get the croup for which it is a sure remedy, as it acts like magic on children. What I have seen and heard from my neighbors about the Royal Balsam I would sooner depend on it than on any prescription from any physician. I have lost two children within the last year of the same disease, had I had at the time some of the Royal Balsam I am confident my dear ones would be alive now. I shall always recommend it to all my friends, for I consider it a blessing and Godsend to mankind.

Yours truly, SOPHIA M. HOLMAN.

From Drs. Bell & Parker.

We have sold a great deal of Medicine since we have been in business, and now have fifteen different kinds of Expectorants for sale. But Dr. Henley's Royal Balsam takes the palm from all. In fact, we sell six bottles of Royal Balsam to one of any other kind—and really it seems of no use to keep any other. During our experience we have never seen any medicine that gives the satisfaction the Royal Balsam does, as is proven by the results daily coming in from the country of old Chronic cases, when nothing else would remove the dreadful cough they had. I find it is good for Bronchitis and Asthma. We acknowledge it is a pleasure to sell medicine that gives such universal satisfaction.

BELL & PARKER,
Druggists, Oregon City.

From W. F. Barber.

DR HENLEY—Dear Sir: I had the Asthma for the last four years, so bad that it came near choking me. I tried all the patent medicines recommended for the cure of Asthma without doing me the least good, till I was told to try some of your Royal Balsam, which on several afflicted with the same disease, has performed wonders. I am using it now for a week and strange to say I have not experienced anything since, and I really believe that I am perfectly cured; anyhow I shall never be without a bottle of the Royal Balsam in the house in case of a similar attack, and I have no hesitation in recommending it to all afflicted with the same disease.

I am Yours truly,
W. F. BARBER.

From J. H. Morril.

DEAR DR HENLEY—I think it but justice to you that these few lines should be made known to the public, for there is so much humbug going on in patent medicines and quack nostrums now-a-days that I had lost all faith in everything in the shape of medicine. I was affected with what is called Bronchitis for the last thirty years. I coughed and wheezed for an hour at a time; I tried some of the best physicians in the Atlantic States and on this coast all to no purpose. I could get no relief, and I really thought there was no relief for me in the world. I was induced to try a bottle of your Royal Balsam and it had a most remarkable effect on me and before I had used up four bottles the cough left me and I can talk as loud as anybody, my wife and neighbors don't know what to make of it. My opinion is that if they knew the value of the Royal Balsam there is not a family in the country that would be without it. I think there is not a better medicine in existence for Bronchitis or cough than the Royal Balsam, and I conscientiously recommend to all so afflicted to give it a fair trial.

I remain yours, truly,
J. H. MORRIL.

GROB'S
MUSICAL AND EDUCATIONAL INSTITUTE!
ALSO,
DAY & BOARDING SCHOOL
FOR YOUNG LADIES.

THIS INSTITUTE IS SITUATED IN A RETIRED and beautiful location, away from the business portion of the city, on Third, between B and C Sts Portland, Oregon.

Attached to the building are extensive and beautiful grounds, for the convenience of pupils.

The Educational Department will be in charge of an efficient corps of Teachers. CAPT. J. P. C. ALSDORFF, (formerly a Professor in the University of Louisiana, and for the last five years Principal of a Collegiate Institute in the Southern part of California), Principal.

No effort will be spared to make this Institute equal to the best on the Pacific Coast. The Course of Studies will embrace all the branches usually taught in first-class Seminaries in the East, including the Classics, French, German, Spanish, Mathematics, &c., &c.

The Musical Department will be conducted by PROF. H. GUIDO GROB, Graduate of Planel's Conservatorie.

Parties from the country may rest assured that under the care of MRS. GROB, (Matron of the Establishment), they will experience all the attention of a mother and enjoy the comforts of a home.

N. B.—Particular attention will be paid to the choice of Text Books, in order to avoid anything of a Sectional or Partisan nature in our curriculum of studies.

For further particulars, enquire at the Institute or address H. GUIDO GROB, P. O. Box No. 168.
